

From the Editor's Desk

Dr. Sontakke Madam

It is my proud privilege to announce the publication of first issue of MIMER Medical Journal on the occasion of 5th Annual Research Society Conference of MIMER Medical College, Talegaon Dabhade. I would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge the efforts taken by all the authors who have put their heart in the journal and have considered it worthy for publication of their good research work. Selection, editing and compilation of selected articles would not have been possible without the untiring & dedicated approach of the members of the editorial board, advisors & peer reviewers. I am sure that over the years the journal shall rise to great academic caliber and shall be referred at National & International platform.

This journal is a multispecialty journal with original research articles in various disciplines and review articles.

This year has been conspicuous due to integration of Bioethics in medical curriculum by the State Govt. University. This is the essence of medical practice & research. The Government's directive for organ donation drive has also received an enthusiastic response from all the spheres especially medical fraternity. I am sure the civic awareness about organ donation has definitely increased due to this campaign.

Plagiarism is currently an important issue in publication of the articles. Due precautions should be taken by the authors to avoid this and accordingly the juniors should be trained to write the articles. The authors should note that Ethical clearance is also mandatory along with patient's consent while submitting the articles for publication.

With best wishes for the success of MIMER Medical Journal and prosperous new year 2017.
